The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes Adventure XV – The Adventure of Silver Blaze

A nick in the leg earns a bash
In the head with a hoof in a flash.

When Holmes solved the case,
The horse ran apace,
And Sherlock walked off with some cash.

Sandy Kozinn

A missing race horse caused quite a craze
If he lives to win the race, then big time he pays

Though the dog did not bark
Watson caught a clue on a lark
The horse of a different color was Silver Blaze

Karen Olson

Though missing for several days,
He came back to run as if crazed,
Removed in the dark,
His dog did not bark,
It was the horse named Silver Blaze

Bill Dorn

Straker needed cash in a hurry
He used a sharp knife, sheep and curry
Silver Blaze wins the race
Holmes cleans the horse's face
To this day, the dog has no worry
