

LIMERICKS

The Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes Adventure XX – The Adventure of the Musgrave Ritual

Brunton's smarter by far than his master.
He decoded the ritual faster.

But what if you know
How to go down below
If your plans end in total disaster?

Sandy Kozinn

The historic rhyme made a big hit
Causing relatives to use all their grit
Old Bunton was up to some caper
But got fired for reading an old paper
And as we all know, the butler did it

Karen Olson

Now 'twas Brunton who was the right guy,
To seduce the maid Rachel and sigh,
"If you just help me,
I will marry thee",
But instead she arranged they both die.

Bill Dorn

Musgrave gives Holmes a tale based on rite
A butler's huge greed and a maid's spite
Age old Crown jewel head gear
Tossed in a shallow mere
The case solved on elm and oak tree height

Steve Mason

