The Casebook of Sherlock Holmes Adventure XLIX – The Adventure of the Mazarin Stone

Count on S. Holmes to find the M. stone,
With a value that's almost unknown.
Was Silvius the thief?
Yes, and Holmes brought him grief.
But the author should have left this tale alone.

Sandy Kozinn

A Count and a boxer swiped a jewel
But Sherlock proved he was quite cool
He modeled for a wax bust
And in Watson put his trust
So Cantlemere said Holmes was no fool

Karen Olson

Now the Count had the Mazarin Stone,
So Holmes left him and Merton alone,
And yet they did not win,
For indeed they had been,
Fooled when Holmes turned on his gramophone.

Bill Dorn

Holmes, on the trail of a precious jewel
Head of effigy used as a tool
Count and Sam bought the ploy
Bust he tried to destroy
In the end, two Holmes made look the fool
